II. Basis for Jurisdiction:

Federal courts are courts of limited jurisdiction. Only two types of cases can be heard in federal court: cases involving a federal question and cases involving diversity of citizenship of the parties. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1331, a case involving the United States Constitution or federal laws or treaties is a federal question case. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1332, a case in which a citizen of one state sues a citizen of another state and the amount in damages is more than $75,000 is a diversity of citizenship case.

A. What is the basis for federal court jurisdiction? (check all that apply)

☒ Federal Questions

ORDER TO AMEND

LORETTA A. PRESKA, United States District Judge:

Plaintiff brings this action pro se. On May 21, 2015, Plaintiff was barred from filing any new action in forma pauperis (IFP) without first obtaining from the Court leave to file. See Kao v. Bloomberg, No. 15-CV-0791 (LAP) (S.D.N.Y. May 21, 2015). Plaintiff, however, paid the $400.00 filing fee for this action. For the reasons set forth below, the Court grants Plaintiff leave to file an amended complaint within sixty days of the date of this order.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

The Court has the authority to dismiss a complaint, even when the plaintiff has paid the filing fee, if it determines that the action is frivolous, Fitzgerald v. First E. Seventh Tenants Corp., 221 F.3d 362, 363-64 (2d Cir. 2000) (per curiam) (citing Pillay v. INS, 45 F.3d 14, 16-17 (2d Cir. 1995) (per curiam) (holding that Court of Appeals has inherent authority to dismiss frivolous appeal)), or that the Court lacks subject matter jurisdiction, Ruhrgas AG v. Marathon Oil Co., 526 U.S. 574, 583 (1999). The Court is obliged, however, to construe pro se pleadings liberally, Harris v. Mills, 572 F.3d 66, 72 (2d Cir. 2009), and interpret them to raise the “strongest [claims] that they suggest,” Triestman v. Fed. Bureau of Prisons, 470 F.3d 471, 474-75 (2d Cir. 2006) (internal quotation marks and citations omitted) (emphasis in original).

BACKGROUND

Plaintiff is from Taiwan. It is unclear what claims she seeks to assert or who are the named defendants. Plaintiff alleges that Defendants have been “stalking [her] all over . . . since 2009,” (Compl. at 8), and that between 2012 and 2015, she was “illegally arrested” six times (id. at 3). Plaintiff alleges that her possessions have been taken, though it is unclear when or by whom. Plaintiff is in a transitional living residence, waiting to move to another facility. Plaintiff states that she did not knock down an elderly woman named Nora, who presumably lives in the same residence, and that she did not hit anyone with a shopping cart; rather, Plaintiff alleges that Nora simply fell down.¹

Plaintiff complains of side effects of medication, but it is unclear if she is challenging forced medication. It is also unclear what Plaintiff seeks in this action, though she does ask for one million dollars in “compensation for [her] from [her] landlord.” (Compl. at 8.)

Plaintiff names as defendants Steven Banks, Commissioner of the New York City Human Resources Administration, Justice Shlomo Hagler of the New York State Supreme Court, and Chief Administrative Judge Lawrence K. Marks. She also names Dr. Naomi Gwynn of the Manhattan Psychiatric Center, and Dr. Gin-Lan Chow, MD. Plaintiff sues “U-Haul Flushing,”

the 18th and 109th Precincts of the New York City Police Department, Bellevue Hospital, and numerous unidentified individuals, such as “Tammy,” and “Andrew.” (Id. at 1.)

DISCUSSION

Rule 8 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure requires a complaint to make a short and plain statement showing that the pleader is entitled to relief. A complaint states a claim for relief if the claim is plausible. Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678-79 (2009) (citing Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007)). To review a complaint for plausibility, the Court accepts all well-pleaded factual allegations as true and draws all reasonable inferences in the pleader’s favor. Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678-79 (citing Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555). But the Court need not accept “[t]hreadbare recitals of the elements of a cause of action,” which are essentially legal conclusions. Id. at 678 (citing Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555). After separating legal conclusions from well-pleaded factual allegations, the court must determine whether those facts make it plausible – not merely possible – that the pleader is entitled to relief. Id.

Plaintiff’s allegations fail to comply with Rule 8. The Court cannot determine from the allegations of the complaint what any particular defendant is alleged to have done or failed to do that violated Plaintiff’s rights.

Moreover, Plaintiff’s complaint appears to join multiple unrelated claims and parties in a single action. Under Rule 20 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, a plaintiff may not pursue unrelated claims against multiple defendants. Deskovic v. City of Peekskill, 673 F. Supp. 2d 154, 167 (S.D.N.Y. 2009).² Rule 20(a)(2) permits a plaintiff to join multiple defendants in one action if: (A) any right to relief is asserted against them jointly, severally, or in the alternative arising out of the same transaction, occurrence, or series of transactions . . . ; and (B) any question of law or fact common to all defendants will arise in the action. Although courts have interpreted Rule 20(a) liberally to allow related claims to be tried within a single proceeding, Barr Rubber Products Co. v. Sun Rubber Co., 425 F.2d 1114, 1126-27 (2d Cir. 1970), “the mere allegation that Plaintiff was injured by all Defendants is not sufficient to join unrelated parties as defendants in the same lawsuit pursuant to Rule 20(a),” Deskovic, 673 F. Supp. 2d at 167. Plaintiff sues at least twenty different individuals on apparently unrelated claims.

² By contrast, Rule 18 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure permits a plaintiff to join as many claims as she has against a single defendant. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 18(a).

Many of Plaintiff’s potential claims suffer defects that cannot be cured. For example, Plaintiff appears to assert claims against Justice Shlomo Hagler of the New York State Supreme Court, and Chief Administrative Judge Lawrence K. Marks arising from their judicial acts – for which they are entitled to absolute immunity. See Bliven v. Hunt, 579 F.3d 204, 210 (2d Cir. 2009) (holding that judges are absolutely immune from suit for damages for any actions that “are considered judicial in nature”).

Some of Plaintiff’s claims under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 appear to be time barred because the claims arose more than three years before the complaint was filed on October 24, 2016.³ Pearl v. City of Long Beach, 296 F.3d 76, 79 (2d Cir. 2002) (holding that statute of limitations for § 1983 claim arising in New York is three years). If Plaintiff asserts in her amended complaint claims that arose before October 24, 2013, she must include allegations showing that the statute of limitations should be equitably tolled.⁴

“A pro se complaint should not [be] dismiss[ed] without [the Court’s] granting leave to amend at least once when a liberal reading of the complaint gives any indication that a valid claim might be stated.” Dolan v. Connolly, 794 F.3d 290, 295 (2d Cir. 2015) (quoting Chavis v. Chappius, 618 F.3d 162, 170 (2d Cir. 2010) (internal quotation marks omitted)). The Court therefore grants Plaintiff an opportunity to amend her complaint. The Court cautions Plaintiff, however, that because she cannot bring all of these unrelated claims against multiple defendants, see Fed. R. Civ. P. 20, in her amended complaint, Plaintiff must name only those defendants who she is suing for claims arising out of the same transaction or occurrence. The Court also reminds Plaintiff that Rule 11 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure requires that before filing, litigants – including pro se litigants – must make good faith efforts to ensure that their claims are warranted by law.⁵

LEAVE TO AMEND

Plaintiff is granted leave to amend his complaint to detail her claims. In the statement of claim, Plaintiff must provide a short and plain statement of the relevant facts supporting each claim against each defendant named in the amended complaint. Plaintiff is also directed to provide the addresses for any named defendants. To the greatest extent possible, Plaintiff’s amended complaint must:

- a) give the names and titles of all relevant persons;
- b) describe all relevant events, stating the facts that support Plaintiff’s case including what each defendant did or failed to do;
- c) give the dates and times of each relevant event or, if not known, the approximate date and time of each relevant event; at the time the claim accrues), id. at § 208 (plaintiff is disabled by infancy or insanity), id. at § 210 (death of plaintiff or defendant).

⁵ Plaintiff is also notified that the submission of frivolous documents may result in the imposition of additional sanctions, including monetary penalties. See 28 U.S.C. § 1651.

- d) give the location where each relevant event occurred;
- e) describe how each defendant's acts or omissions violated Plaintiff's rights and describe the injuries Plaintiff suffered; and
- f) state what relief Plaintiff seeks from the Court, such as money damages, injunctive relief, or declaratory relief.

Essentially, the body of Plaintiff's amended complaint must tell the Court: who violated her federally protected rights; what facts show that her federally protected rights were violated; when such violation occurred; where such violation occurred; and why Plaintiff is entitled to relief. Because Plaintiff's amended complaint will completely replace, not supplement, the original complaint, any facts or claims that Plaintiff wishes to maintain must be included in the amended complaint.

CONCLUSION

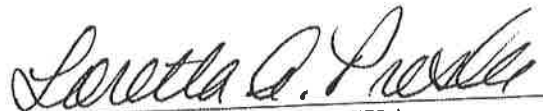

The Clerk of Court is directed to assign this matter to my docket, mail a copy of this order to Plaintiff, and note service on the docket. Plaintiff is granted leave to file an amended complaint that complies with the standards set forth above. Plaintiff must submit the amended complaint to this Court's Pro Se Intake Unit within sixty days of the date of this order, caption the document as an "Amended Complaint," and label the document with docket number 16-CV-8285 (LAP). An Amended Complaint form is attached to this order. No summons will issue at this time. If Plaintiff fails to comply within the time allowed and cannot show good cause to excuse such failure, the complaint will be dismissed for failure to state a claim upon which relief may be granted.

The Court certifies under 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a)(3) that any appeal from this order would not be taken in good faith, and therefore in forma pauperis status is denied for the purpose of an appeal. Cf. Coppedge v. United States, 369 U.S. 438, 444-45 (1962) (holding that an appellant demonstrates good faith when he seeks review of a nonfrivolous issue).
